It is hard to believe that we are in the middle of winter and yet we were close to 70 degrees a couple of weeks ago. Several of you have asked if we were going to have any winter storms. Will it be cold enough to have winter precipitation in the future? Will we get rain, sleet, snow, freezing rain or all of the above? If so, how much and how long will it last? Or will the wintery precipitation miss us all together?

All of these questions are very good ones. As a meteorologist I always love to answer these questions with, "Wait until tomorrow's model run, and we will see what they are showing." or "We will just have to see what happens over the next few weeks." Not the answer you wanted to hear I'm sure. But sometimes, this is the best that I can give you.

It is kind of like this in life, isn't it. At times we have a lot of questions. What will happen tomorrow? Will I be O.K.? How about my children? I am mad at you God, why did You let this happen? I thought you were a God of Love! It seems as we get one answer, four more questions arise. It is not always easy being a Christian, someone with faith in God.

In John 14:18, Jesus says, "I will not leave you as orphans; I am coming to you" He does not say it will be easy. He does not say that we will understand everything in life, or that it will always go our way or be fair. What He promises us is to always be by our side, to never leave us or abandon us. The questions for us: Are we willing to let Him walk with us? Are we willing to hear His answer for us? Are we willing to follow God wherever God is calling us to go and do whatever it is that God wants us to do?

I hope and pray you will have a great week and that all of us will have the faith to believe that God is by our side through the His Son, Jesus Christ!

In Christ, Allan
